A WORTHY CANDIDATE.

The loyal voters of the Commonwealth ask no higher tribute to the worth and character of Judge Williams than the following neat compliment paid him by the only daily Democratic paper of Western Pennsylvania the day following his nomination. It said:

The nomination of the Hon. Henry W. Williams as a candidate for Judge of the Supreme Court is a good one. He was the best man named before the Republican Convention, and possesses legal and moral qualifications for the responsible position to which he has been nominated. Both parties have now presented their candidates. An important duty has been faithfully discharged by the respective conventions. The campaign may now be conducted without personal aspersions, and decided upon the principles of the two great parties. This is as it should be. It is an auspicious sign of the times, and if the county conventions are equally fortunate in the selection of legislative candidates, there will be a stop put to the deplorable corruption at the seat of government under a new reign of honest men and conscientious legislators.—Pittsburgh Post, June 28th, 1867.

The Post, in referring to the above, on the 29th of August, was pleased to say:

"We have nothing to take back or modify. Of Judge Williams' private or legal reputation we have nothing but words of praise, and however it may suit some pugnacious and heady politicians, we cannot bring ourselves to view personal assaults as either wise or politic."

* * *

TO-DAY the Republicans of Allegheny county are called upon to elect delegates to the Convention which meets at the Court House, on Tuesday next, for the purpose of nominating candidates for the General Assembly. We again urge on members of the party the importance of attending the polls to aid in the selection of tried, true and trusty delegates to represent them in the Convention. If bad men find their way into that body, and frame a ticket for the suffrages of the Republicans which will prove unworthy of support, the responsibility, in a large measure, will rest on those who absent themselves from election places to-day. Let us have a good nominating Convention on Tuesday next, and our county will be represented next session at Harrisburg by able, honest and honorable representatives—by such a delegation as will advance the interests of our section of the Commonwealth, and at the same time reflect credit on the constituents who send them.

NOTHING has occurred of late so calculated to elevate the negro character as the prompt refusal of the colored orator of Ohio, Mr. Langston, to be made the instrument of disgracing Gen. Howard. The President has no true sympathy for the freedmen. He favors the party who have been and are now their oppressors, and at heart has but little care or respect for them. No person would accuse him of taking much stock in the executive abilities of Mr. Langston or any other colored man. Under the garb of friendship for the blacks, however, he concealed a malicious design to degrade Gen. Howard by elevating a negro over him, but Mr. Langston was too shrewd to be used in such a way. He had much more penetration of character than Mr. Johnson imagined, and properly and promptly begged leave to keep out of public service, preferring to remain an humble citizen rather than hold an exalted position at the expense of a faithful officer. The inducements to Mr. Langston were not ordinary ones. By accepting the office tendered he would have occupied a higher position than any of his race in the country, and would have had spread before him a vast field for the development and display of the talent, sagacity and ability he undoubtedly possesses. He was afforded an opportunity to have his name written in his country's history, but his generous impulses commanded him to stand by Gen. Howard as the friend of his race, and to treat with scorn the offer of the President. Few instances of more worthy conduct are on record.

THE Philadelphia Republicans have nominated the following ticket: Judge of the Court of Common Pleas, M. Russell Thayer. Senator, Third District, Joseph A. Bonham. Assemblymen—First District, David Foy; Second, R. C. Tittermary; Third, A. M. Walkinshaw; Fourth, W. W. Watt; Fifth, Edmund Yard, Jr.; Sixth, Col. Chas. Kleckner; Seventh, James Subers; Eighth, James V. Stokes; Ninth, no nomination; Tenth, Elisha W. Davis; Eleventh, Charles Eager; Twelfth, Alex. Adaire; Thirteenth, no nomination; Fourteenth, Geo. F. Thorn; Fifteenth, James Holgate; Sixteenth, Marshall M. Hong; Seventeenth, Watson Comly; Eighteenth, Jas. N. Marks. Messrs. Wall, Subers, Davis, Adaire, Thorn and Marks, have been members before.

ALTHOUGH FLOUR has considerably decreased in value, the size of the loaves of bread furnished by Pittsburgh bakers remain unchanged, while the old prices are demanded. Let us have a reduction, Messrs. Bakers, or a strike may ensue amongst the large class of our population who depend on you for a daily supply of the staff of life. There is no reason why bread should command old prices, since flour can be procured much cheaper than of yore.

PERHAPS the maudlin sympathy felt for Maximilian will be considerably abated after the announcement, which is made by our telegrams this morning, that he caused during his administration the execution of over nine thousand subjects. He held life at a poor price, and it is not a pity that his own was taken.

FROM WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, August 30, 1867.

THE GRANT-JOHNSON SENSATION.

"Specials" to New York papers thus dilate upon the recent sensation concerning Gen. Grant and President Johnson:

The Herald's special says: The truth in regard to the various rumors afloat relative to a rupture between General Grant and the President is that no rupture has taken place, that the two are on the most friendly terms, and that General Grant has not offered or the President asked him to resign his office. The General did protest against the removal of General Sheridan; one ground for the protest being that it was unjust to remove Hancock to New Orleans while the yellow fever was raging there. He also suggested that he alone was empowered to control matters in the Southern Department. The President, in this conversation, confessed that Congress had invested Grant with the control of the Southern districts, but contended that his powers were necessarily subject to the supervision of the supreme Executive head. The General, without venturing to offer any refuting arguments, assented to the President's views.

The Tribune's special says: Gen. Grant, it is understood, has recently come to the conclusion that he had misapprehended his powers under the reconstruction act, and that his last letter to the President, with reference to the removal of Gen. Sheridan and the relieving of Gen. Hancock, was based upon a misunderstanding of his functions.

It is stated by those who are well advised as to the movements at the headquarters of the army, that Gen. Grant, on Tuesday, addressed a note to the President withdrawing the letter first above mentioned, and it was immediately surrendered by Mr. Johnson. The only correspondence now remaining unpublished is the first letter of Grant upon the subject of the removal of Stanton, and marked "private," which the President still refuses to allow to be published. Gen. Grant, however, by his referring to it in the correspondence on the removal of Sheridan, already published, removed the privacy, and he has no objections to its publication, but at the same time he cannot give it out for such a purpose for the reason that it would be a breach of military etiquette. When General Grant's views on the subject were communicated to the President, he said that if General Grant thought it was no longer private he ought to give it for publication, but he would not do so. It now looks as though neither this letter nor that written by Grant on the 27th, on the subject of assigning Hancock to relieve Sheridan, will be made public until Congress meets and calls for them.

SECRETARY SEWARD.

Secretary Seward's friends say he is not going out of the Cabinet, as his presence in the State Department is absolutely required—at least for some time to come—for the completion of the negotiations with Great Britain concerning the settlement of the Alabama claims, which are on a fair way of progress, upon the basis of the cession of British Columbia. Important negotiations with other powers, involving the cession of territory to the United States, have also been opened by Mr. Seward, and it is believed that he alone can bring them to a favorable conclusion. The continuation of his services as Secretary of State is, therefore, deemed as transcending in public importance all temporary political issues growing out of the late proceedings of the President. Jerry Black, Coyle & Co., don't think so however.

CONCERNING SOLDIERS' DISCHARGE PAPERS.

The following order was issued to-day:

HEADQUARTERS UNITED STATES ARMY,

WASHINGTON, August 28, 1867.

General Order No. 82.

The following order, received from the War Department, is published for the information and guidance of all concerned: To prevent payments on fraudulent soldiers' discharge papers, Paymasters are instructed by the Chief of their Department to refuse payment, unless the identity of the soldier is properly established.

CIRCULAR NO. 58.

PAYMASTER GENERAL'S OFFICE,
August 12th, 1867.

To insure as far as practicable the prompt payment of such claims, and at the same time still more carefully guard against fraud, all officers who sign and deliver discharge papers will instruct the soldier to deliver them to the chief of the pay district in which he is serving at the time of his discharge, or, if he prefer, to some other designated chief of a pay district, and the officer will then immediately notify, through another channel than the hands of the man discharged, the paymaster designated of the fact of such discharge, the date, name, regiment, and company of the soldier, as set forth in the papers. No payment will be made on a discharge by any paymaster except on receipt of such notification, unless otherwise conclusively satisfied of their genuineness and personal identity of the claimant.

AFFAIRS IN ARIZONA.

The Postmaster at Prescott, Arizona, in a letter dated July 21st, says: "There are probably ten Indian massacres to every one reported. The military force is not half equal to the demands, and unless some suitable commander is appointed, who can comprehend the true condition of the country, it is feared many years will elapse before we will be relieved of Indian troubles and personal danger. The country is, however, constantly increasing in white population."

CABINET MATTERS.

A rumor was circulating this afternoon that General Steadman is to be appointed Secretary of War, but on inquiry at the proper source the report is ascertained to be entirely devoid of truth. The General called at the Executive Mansion merely on a visit of courtesy. There are no new developments at present concerning members of the Cabinet. Any further changes do not now appear probable.

While he blamed the directors of the public press for spreading unfounded rumors, and creating general distrust, he himself would do all in his power to recall confidence.

The only orders issued or to be issued are such as are considered necessary to the execution of the reconstruction acts, which do not warrant a violent change in the civil course. The people must look for relief to the State Convention. I do not consider such matters within my power to adjust."

WASHINGTON, PA.

[Special Correspondence Pittsburgh Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, PA., August 29, 1867.

The camp meeting held near Bentleysville, in this county, closed this morning. It was a success in every way. The attendance from first to last was encouragingly large. On Sabbath the number present was variously estimated from three to five thousand. The order observed throughout the entire meeting was unexceptionable. One feature of this meeting was unusual—the congregations during the day were much larger than in the evening. The people in all the neighborhood seemed to have suspended business altogether.

The preaching was excellent—plain, practical, earnest. The spirit of God made it effectual. Much good was accomplished. Believers were greatly quickened, and quite a number united with the Church.

To-day a meeting begins at Castleman's Run, seven miles back of Wellsburg, in West Virginia. This is an old camp ground. It is more than fifty years since the first meeting was held on it. The people thereabouts are making large calculations on the present meeting. You may hear from it.

UNITED STATES COURT.

The Black Counterfeiting Case—Evidence for the Government and Defense Concluded.

Before Hon. Wilson McCandless.

In the United States District Court Friday morning, Robert M. Black, of Washington county, was placed on trial on two indictments, one charging him with having passed and attempted to pass, on the 10th of November, 1865, a counterfeit treasury note of the denomination of ten dollars, and the other with having in his possession, with intent to utter and publish, fifty counterfeit treasury notes, or greenbacks, of the denomination of ten dollars, and with passing one of the same. The indictments were found, and the defendant arraigned, at the last May term. The Government was represented by R. B. Carnahan, Esq., District Attorney, and his Assistant, W. D. Moore, Esq., and for the defense Thomas M. Marshall and William Linn, Esqs., appeared. The case was opened to the jury by Mr. Moore, after which witnesses were called.

Emanuel Walters, sworn—Reside in Luzerne township, Fayette county; lived there in the fall of 1865. I am acquainted with Robert M. Black; saw him at a horse race, in Greene county, in the fall of 1865; he gave me a ten dollar bill to bet on the race, saying that if I won, I could have half the money, and if I lost to let it go. I thought his proposition too generous for the money to be good; it was a greenback, with the President's face on; it was one of the notes called greenbacks; told him I thought the note could not be good, and he said he knew it was not, but the bank could not detect it; he said the Government had tried to ruin him, and he was going to rob her; that he had got the note on the steamboat Gallatin, and that he expected a man there (at the race) that day with seven hundred dollars of the money; kept the note until next day, when I gave it to my son John to return to Black. The horse race was at a place called Stogdon's Lane, near Jefferson, about the last of August or first of September. Black had a large bundle of money in his possession at the time he gave me the ten dollar bill; he did not tell me how much he had; supposed there was three or four hundred dollars, and so far as I saw the notes were all tens, he told me it was all counterfeit money. Saw Black attempting to make a bet with Randolph Hewitt; he offered one of the ten dollar bills, but Hewitt said it was bad and would not bet.

Cross-examined—Don't think I made the information in this case; the race course I spoke of is about twelve miles from Brownsville; Black married a niece of mine; did not tell Jacob Conn, Esq., a few weeks after the race, that I never had received any counterfeit money from Black; did not offer it for drinks at Frederick, or say from whom I got it; first told the circumstance of getting the ten dollar bill from Black to Henry Masters, his father-in-law, and next to John Conway, his uncle. I made the oath upon which Black was arrested; had not intended to do anything in the matter; did not say during the trial of the Moffitt conspiracy case that if Black swore against Alexander Moffitt, I would put him in the Penitentiary; did not say this to Ross T. Adams.

Witness explained how he came to make the information. During the trial of the Moffitt-Thompson conspiracy case he spoke of what had transpired between him and Black at the Greene county race, to the counsel of Moffitt, Mr. Swartzwelder, and after that case was concluded he was asked to make oath to what he had stated concerning Black.

John B. Walters, sworn—Am a son of previous witness. Have been acquainted with Black since I came home from the army. In the fall of 1865 got a ten dollar counterfeit greenback from him, at his house, where I went, by invitation, to a party. He told me to pass it, and return him five dollars of it; then I thought it was a counterfeit, but said nothing and kept it. I gave it to Lydia Kelley, and told her it was a counterfeit. [Note produced.] This is the same note [Mark pointed out.] It was in October, 1865, that I got the note. [Witness gave a somewhat detailed history of the note, stating that when the information was made against Black, he (witness) spoke of the note, and was requested to make an effort to get it. He did so, being furnished with a subpœna, and instructed to serve it upon Lydia Kelly in case she refused to give up the note. The woman at first refused, but finally agreed to procure it from her brother, to whom she had given it, if she was furnished with a horse to go for it. She procured the note, and hence its production.] Witness stated a conversation he had with Black, who said that if he (witness) would do as he (Black) would direct, he could place witness in a position to buy a farm, proposing that they should procure a wagon and go peddling poultry through the country, buying for counterfeit and selling for good money.

Cross-examined—Am good friends with Black; never had any difficulty with him, except that I believed he was leading me to ruin; did not tell Lydia Kelly I was going to make $40,000, and that if she would come and swear against Black she would get a new dress; at the time I got the note from Black he spoke of another that was not so well colored, and also that he expected $400 by the boat; when I went for the note Alex. Moffitt told me that if I got the same note that I gave to Lydia Kelly he would give me the price of a suit of clothes; did not tell Squire Hawthorne that Moffitt told me that if I did not get that note, to get one like it, or any note; he told me to get any note that Black had passed; did not ask Lydia Kelly to swear that Black passed the note on her; when I was given the subpoena I supposed I had authority to take Lydia Kelly before Squire Hawthorne and have her swear.

Ezra Conway, sworn—Reside in Fredericktown, East Bethlehem township, Washington county. Had a conversation with Robert Black about counterfeit money; he said he could get what he wanted from Dr. Barr or Bill Dawson; never saw him have any counterfeit money. He made a proposal for me to go across the country to the west, and to furnish the horse and wagon and money; he did not in this connection say anything about counterfeit money, but did previously. In May last was present at a conversation between Black and Emanuel Walters at Brownsville; Walters said he had sworn to nothing but the truth, and that the stories about him (Walters) sending him (Black) to the Penitentiary were not true.

Isaac Reed, sworn—Live in East Bethlehem township, Washington county. In the spring of 1866, was present when Black was negotiating for the purchase of a table cloth, for which Black offered two dollars; the peddler finally agreed to take that much, when Black produced a ten dollar greenback; the peddler looked to see if the note was good, when Black said he had got it at Fredericktown. The peddler gave the change, and went away. Black then said if the peddler came back he would show him a trick worth two of that. Could not say the bill was counterfeit; thought at the time that if it was, it was the first of the kind I had ever seen. Never saw the peddler afterwards.

Benjamin Thornburg, sworn—Live in East Bethlehem township, Washington county. In March last Black came to my house; said he had been in the employ of the Government; said they had robbed him, had not paid him, and that he was going to get even, or words to that effect.

David French, sworn—Know Black; in the fall of 1865 saw him in Wm. Dawson's tavern, and had a conversation with him. Had a note against Black for $90. Black said he had sold Dawson some whisky part of which was to be paid for in counterfeit money. Dawson has been absent for sixteen or eighteen months; understand he comes home every two or three weeks. He kept a tavern; it is now carried on by his son. Black said Dawson was to pay him for the whisky he had sold him, half in good and half in counterfeit money, and would pay witness the good money on the $90 note.

William Conway, sworn—Saw Black with counterfeit money in the fall of 1866, about a quarter of a mile below Fredericktown; he had seventy dollars in ten dollar greenbacks; I was living with him at the time; Black said it was not good money, that he got it from Joe Johnston and was going to take it back.

Cross-examined—Black told me he had sold a horse to Joe Johnston for $120; he got his horse back.

Joseph Crawford, sworn—Black told me that he had "right smart" of counterfeit money, and that he had burnt it. Spoke of his having sold a horse to Joe Johnston and getting paid in counterfeit money, which he had returned.

John Bales, sworn—Was present with Mr. Reed when Black purchased the table cloth from the pedler. Black told the pedler that the next time he came along he (Black) would buy a linen cloth from him. After the pedler left, Black said if he came back he would show him a trick worth two of that.

Alexander Moffitt, affirmed—Am now living in Washington city; last spring lived in Brownsville; I arrested Black, the defendant. In December, 1865, had a conversation with him in Uniontown; he said he had sold Joseph Johnston two horses for two hundred dollars in counterfeit money, the money to be rated at forty dollars good money on the hundred. He said Joseph Thompson expected some counterfeit money from New York. At Wheeling, where I had Black under arrest, after bringing him from Robinson's Run, in West Virginia, he said if I could have his matter arranged he would show me where the money was made, about twelve miles from Fairmount.

Cross-examined—Did not offer Black his liberty if he would swear to certain things. Black was not a witness on my trial for conspiracy in the Quarter Sessions; he was present in court, but don't know what the intention was in having him there.

Albert Conway, sworn—Black did some plowing for me in May, 1866. He showed me a ten dollar bill which he said was counterfeit; it was a Government note; said he got it from the Government in his pay. On the 9th of this month he said he got it from Kelly, who is a constable in Greene county.

S. Reeves, sworn—Since his arrest I have talked with Black, who was a near neighbor of mine; he always played innocent. When home from the army had a conversation with him about counterfeit money, and he did ask me if I knew where any could be had; he said there was a good deal passing in the army.

Philip Walters, (son of Emanuel Walters,) sworn—In the spring of 1865 stopped one night at Black's house. In a conversation Black stated he had about a grate full of counterfeit money; did not say where he got it, but spoke of getting one hundred dollars from Mr. Johnston for selling him a horse. He said further that the money was likely to give him trouble.

Cross-examined—Can't tell what month this was in, about the month of March; am not positive that it was in 1865.

This closed the evidence for the Government.

Mr. Linn opened for the defense, stating that the prosecution of Black arose out of the Moffitt-Thompson conspiracy case, tried in the Quarter Sessions. Had it not been for Alexander Moffitt's trouble with the Thompsons, "poor Bob Black" would not have been prosecuted. Black was a witness in that case, and this was his offense against Moffitt. He admitted that in the neighborhood where the defendant resided counterfeit money had been plenty. Bill Dawson had been there, and wherever he dwelt counterfeit money floated about. Mr. Linn closed by stating that the defense hoped to show the entire innocence of the defendant.

Thomas Black, sworn—Am a brother of defendant; he can neither read nor write; he was in the army. Remember of the race spoken of by the witness Walters; my brother got seventy-five dollars there from a man named John Houston, to whom he had sold a horse. I am satisfied that the defendant cannot tell what bank a note is on; the money which he received for the horse, and which I counted, was in national notes and of Pittsburgh and Waynesburg banks. Robert was farming in Virginia last spring, and had a farm rented. At the race saw Emanuel Walters with a ten dollar greenback, which he said he got from a good man; a person to whom he showed the bill told him to bet it on the sweat cloth.

The discharge of Robert M. Black from the army, June 9th, 1865, at Cumberland, was offered in evidence.

Squire Hawthorne, of Hillsborough, Washington county, testified to the bringing of Lydia Kelly before him by John Walters, who desired her deposition taken, stating that he had authority from the United States Court. The deposition he desired taken was concerning a ten dollar counterfeit bill in the possession of the woman Kelly. Witness said Walters, in answer to a question on the subject, said he had no private mark on the bill. Witness further said that the reputation of Emanuel and John Walters was not good.

[This witness, who has been a Justice of the Peace in Washington county for twenty-four years, lost his legs in his youth, and was brought into the Court in a box.]

Lydia Kelley, sworn—[Note shown.] This note John Walters gave me for a good one, for stopping at my house; at Squire Hawthorn's he told me that if I would swear about the note I would get a new suit and he would get forty thousand dollars. Did not tell James Gibson that Walters was going to burn the note and that I snatched it out of his hands.

Isaac Berson testified that Emanuel Walters stopped at his father's house in Fredericktown on the night after the race in Greene county; had a ten dollar counterfeit note, and said there was much of that kind of money at the race. He said he got it from a good man.

John Good testified that he also saw Walters at Berson's tavern with a counterfeit ten dollar bill, saying that he had made that at the race; that some said that if was not good, but that he got it from a good man, in Greene county.

Cross-examined—Walters said that he got the note from a good man and would take it back.

Jacob Conn, Esq., testified that in the latter part of last March Walters remarked that if he (Walters) had to go to Pittsburgh, Black had better leave the country, referring to what had taken place at the race at Greene county. Walters said he did not in that time take any of Black's counterfeit money and warned his boys not to take any of it.

N. B. Rogdon, of Fredericktown, testified he had heard Emanuel Walter's character for veracity questioned; had also heard Moffit's character in like respect doubted, of late.

Judge Hatfield, (late Associate Judge in Fayette county,) testified he had known Emanuel Walters from boyhood; his character for veracity was not considered good some time ago.

Ross Adams testified that during the trial of Moffit for conspiracy Emanuel Walters requested him to tell Black not to appear as a witness against Moffit—that he (Walters) was brought there to swear against Black, and that if Black did not appear he (Walters) would not appear.

On cross-examination witness said he had not been in any trouble about counterfeit money; there was a note which it was said he had passed, but he guessed it was a mistake.

The defense here closed their testimony. The Government introduced some rebutting evidence.

Wm. Horner, of Fayette county, had known Emanuel Walters for fifteen years, and never heard anything against his character.

Robert Durall, of Washington county, testified that he was well acquainted with Walters, and never heard his character questioned until this case arose.

Joseph Crawford also sustained the character of Walters for truth.

Joseph Morton testified that he had lived in the same neighborhood with Walters for five or six years, and had never heard his character called in question.

Stephen Hill, of Fredericktown, had known Emanuel Walters for twelve or thirteen years; his character for veracity was good.

William Muter had known Walters for ten or eleven years; lived in the neighborhood with him; his character was good.

Capt. Vandergrift lived in the same neighborhood with Walters; never heard his character for veracity questioned.

William Crawford and Goodlow Mitchner, of Fredericktown, gave Walters a good character; they never heard anything against it.

Joseph Crawford, recalled, testified concerning the conversation which took place between Walters and Squire Conn, but could not distinctly recollect what had been said by Walters about the counterfeit money which he represented Black had in his possession at the race.

The testimony closed at five minutes before three o'clock, when the court adjourned till ten o'clock this A. M.

The Brawdy House Again.

The house kept by Mrs. Brawdy, on Liberty street, has of late been the scene of a number of disgraceful affrays. It is but a short time since the peaceable citizens of that locality were gratified with the intelligence that legal proceedings had been instituted against this old offender, and it was confidently hoped that the matter would receive the prompt attention the necessities of the case demanded. We regret to say, however, that the hope was a vain one, and that Mrs. B. whose reputation is notorious, still continues the uninterrupted proprietor, (so far as the law is concerned,) of one of the most disgraceful, disorderly, outrageous, and damnable "hells" within the confines of the city. We doubt exceedingly whether a more infamous house can be found in the United States outside the city of Nashville. The following is only one of a number of disgraceful affairs that occur there, many of which never reach the ears of the public: About ten o'clock, Wednesday night, a party of men, among whom were Wm. Caughey, Christ. Hare, and a man named Bell, went to the house, and after being there a short time got into a disturbance of some kind. After a passage of words, Hare, as is stated, drew his revolver and fired twice at Bell, but without effect. It is also stated that he fired twice after getting out of the house. One of the party states that a watchman interfered, when Hare fired at him and fought his way clear; but this is not confirmed. Information for assault and battery with intent to kill was made before the Mayor, and Thursday afternoon officers Rivers, McCready and O'Mara proceeded to make the arrest. Hare was found in one of the upper rooms of Mrs. Brawdy's house, and was arrested without difficulty. He was locked up, but subsequently got bail. Yesterday morning, at eleven o'clock, he appeared before the Mayor, waived a hearing, and gave bail for his appearance at Court. He states that he was intoxicated, and in showing one of the women the pistol it "went off," and while he was trying to remove the exploded cartridge from the cylinder it "went off" again. To cure disease it is necessary that the cause should be eradicated, and not until this sink hole of iniquity is broken up, can peace and quiet be maintained in that locality. Is there no method by which this end may be accomplished?

Cemetery Marble and Stone Works.

The cemeteries in the neighborhood of the two cities contain as exquisite specimens of tombstones and monuments as are to be observed anywhere else in the country. Indeed the fame of our marble cutters is not local, but extends throughout our own and adjoining States, and the trade in tomb-stones is not the least important of our city. Prominent among those who have contributed much towards elevating the tastes of our people in the direction of marble cutting and sculpture, is Mr. A. J. Harbaugh, the proprietor of the Cemetery Marble Works, opposite the main entrance of the Allegheny Cemetery. He is a practical and finished workman, and all the specimens turned from his establishment bear the impress of superiority. The designs for monuments and tombstones are made conformable to the tastes of patrons, and the execution is entrusted to the most careful of workmen. At the works will be found a very fine display of tombstones and monuments from which selections can be made. The manufacture of stone burial cases, which are warranted to prove water proof, are made a specialty, and will be found to better answer the purpose for which intended than any other style now in use. Mr. Harbaugh attends promptly to all kinds of marble and stone work, and his prices will be found very reasonable. To any of our readers desiring anything in this line we earnestly commend the Cemetery Marble Works.

Flour—Fraudulent Brands.

It will be observed that R. T. Kennedy & Bro. caution the public against a fraudulent and mischievous practice of certain dealers in flour, of buying up second hand sacks and barrels branded with the trade mark of the Pearl Mill, filling them with an inferior quality of flour, and vending the same as the product of that popular mill. Such practices are disgraceful to any merchant, and the guilty parties should be visited with exemplary punishment and loss of custom. Messrs. Kennedy & Bro. have supplied themselves largely with a superior quality of white wheat, from which they are now manufacturing a quality of flour for family use better than they were ever able to make from the wheat of 1866, and unsurpassed by any known brand in the country, East or West, and have adopted the judicious expedient mentioned in their "Caution to the Public," for protecting their customers from imposition.

The Myers Case Expose.

The GAZETTE readers will remember the developments made concerning opposing counsel in the trial of Alfred Myers, for counterfeiting, in the United States Court, a couple of weeks since. Of the attornies concerned were Ira H. Pierce, Esq., of Titusville, for the defense, and W. V. Perrine, Esq., of Pithole, assisting in the prosecution. A controversy is now going on between these members of the bar, through the newspapers at Titusville and Pithole, each seeking to sustain his own reputation at the expense of the other. The "exhibition" in the Court, outside of any opinions which may be entertained as to which of the two falsified, was most extraordinary. Pierce, it will be recollected, was charged with having tampered with a witness named De Haven, whose testimony, as to the tampering, was sustained by Perrine testifying to a conversation which he had with Pierce bearing upon the subject, this corroboration being offered as rebutting Pierce's most positive denial of what had been sworn against him. The latest publication concerning the matter which we have seen is in the Titusville Herald, consisting of two affidavits. One is by S. S. Hill, Postmaster at Pithole, who swears to a state of facts negativing the idea that such a conversation as Perrine testified to could have taken place between him (Perrine) and Pierce, or that if it had taken place, Mr. Hill would have heard it, and he says he did not. He says further that Perrine, during a visit to Pierce, at the St. Charles Hotel, "was not in a condition to find his way back to his hotel, and that Pierce hired a darky and gave the darky one dollar to take the said Perrine home, and that the deponent and Pierce lifted Perrine into the carriage." The other affidavit, made by C. C. Pauley, locomotive engineer, is in reference to the acknowledgment by the witness De Haven that "he had done Pierce a great wrong, that he had lied about him, and he expected it would send him to the Penitentiary," and also to a statement by De Haven that "Perrine was as deep in the mud as he (De Haven) was in the mire, in the conspiracy against Pierce."

It is due to say that while Perrine was allowed to testify against Pierce, and was the last of the rebutting witnesses called by the Government, the Court declined to allow sur-rebutting evidence. Although unfortunate for the defense in the collateral issue introduced, this ruling was regarded as proper. Had the Court allowed the defense to sur-rebut, as they desired, the testimony offered to be introduced could not have affected the issue the jury were sworn to try.

The next chapter in this rather interesting controversy we will await with some anxiety, believing that Mr. Perrine will have something unpleasant to say in reply to the rather strong case made against him by the Titusville Herald.

The Point Riot Case.

The Point Riot Case, which was continued from Thursday evening, was resumed last evening at eight o'clock, when the counsel for the prosecution re-called John Mally, who had been called on Thursday evening, but discharged on account of being unable to speak or understand the English language, being an Irishman. An interpreter was procured, through whom the following facts were obtained from the witness: He resides on Point street; saw officer Joice taking the prisoner, "Pork," along with him; was at the corner of Point street when the watchman called on him for assistance; saw two men beating officer Joice but did not know them; went to assist the officer when called on, and was stabbed in the side; did not know the man who stabbed him; knew Frank and "Sig." Miller, and "Big Jim," but did not see either of them strike the officer; saw stones thrown, but did not know who threw them; was struck on the leg by a stone; heard one pistol shot, but could not say who fired it; there was a big crowd there; could not say how many; there might have been twenty. [The prisoner was here asked if he had talked with Frank Miller since the affray? The counsel for the defense objected. The Mayor said that it was evident there had been a fearful riot there, and notwithstanding there were four hundred persons present, no one appeared to know anything about it. Mr. Moreland said there was no evidence that there had been four hundred persons at the affray. The question was waived.] The prosecution here closed. The counsel for defendants waived a further hearing, and Mr. McCarthy, who represented the prosecution, asked for the discharge of Evans and Thair. His Honor, the Mayor, said that before fixing the amount of bail he had a remark to make to the counsel. He had been flatly contradicted by one of the attorneys for the defense, and he hoped that hereafter when that attorney was engaged in a case before him, he would be a little more guarded in his remarks. Mr. Moreland replied that he supposed His Honor referred to him, and that in explanation he desired to say that he had no intention to contradict him.

The accused, Harkins, Shannon, and the two Millers, were each held in the sum of one thousand dollars bail for their appearance at Court. Thair and Evans were discharged.

Sabbath School Pic Nic.

The annual union pic nic of the Sabbath Schools connected with the 2nd United Presbyterian church, of Pittsburgh, was held at McFarland's Grove, on Thursday the 29th inst. The weather was very propitious, and everything passed off agreeably and pleasantly. The children, with their parents, to the number of eight or ten hundred, assembled at the Sabbath School rooms, at eight o'clock, A. M. Each class was decorated with badges of different colors, bearing the inscriptions, "God Bless Our Sabbath Schools" and "God Bless Our Homes." The children, after being arranged into classes, were marched in regular order, headed by their respective teachers, to the Union Depot, where cars, chartered for the purpose, were in waiting to convey them to the grove. After arriving at their destination the children were assembled on the large and commodious platform, when Rev. Dr. Clarke, of Allegheny city, offered up a brief and earnest prayer. Rev. Mr. Hanna being requested followed in a few appropriate remarks, after which all engaged in singing the One Hundredth Psalm, and as the last notes of "Old Hundred" died away, hundreds of joyous, happy hearts bounded away to spend a joyous and happy day. We would not omit to mention that the pleasure and happiness of the occasion was mainly owing to the unwearied and untiring efforts of the beloved Superintendents of the respective schools, William Floyd and Thomas H. Rabe, Esqs.

Alleged Outrage.

Gotlieb Roth made information before Alderman Taylor against John Nick, alleging that he, Nick, outraged the prosecutor's daughter, a little girl about nine years of age. The prosecutor resides in Bloomfield, near Lawrenceville. The defendant, who is a married man, over forty years of age, is a carpenter by trade and has been engaged in building a house for the prosecutor, with whose family he has been on very intimate terms. It is alleged that Nick went into the prosecutor's house on Thursday, laid down on a lounge in one of the rooms, and while there the little girl came in, when he seized her and committed the outrage complained of. As soon as the child escaped she informed her parents of the occurrence, and her father proceeded to the office of Alderman Taylor immediately and made information as above stated. A warrant was issued and placed in the hands of officer Bell, who arrested Nick during the afternoon. The accused had a partial hearing before Alderman Taylor last evening, and was committed to jail for a further hearing to-day, in default of one thousand dollars bail.

An Exciting Chase.

Mary Brooks made information against William Gallaway, before Alderman Strain, yesterday, charging him with affiliation. The parties are of the "colored persuasion," and reside in the Eighth ward. Gallaway was arrested and after a hearing, held in the sum of five hundred dollars for trial, in default of which he was committed. Officer Barry started with him to the jail, and just as they reached the door of the Alderman's office he gave the officer the slip, running down Fifth street like a "quarter horse," with the officer following close in the rear. He was arrested in his wild career near the Vigilant Engine House on Third street, and conveyed to jail, where he is safely lodged, awaiting his trial.

The Continental Saloon.—No eating House in the city enjoys a better reputation than the Continental Dining Saloon, and no proprietor knows better how to sustain the reputation of his establishment than Mr. Holtzheimer. As a public caterer Mr. H. has no superior, as all are willing to testify who have visited the Continental Saloon, Fifth street, next door to the Postoffice, in the basement.

Hotel Thieves at Work.

It is remarkable with what adroitness those light fingered gentry, commonly known as "sneak theives," ply their avocation. It might be presumed that through continued success they would become so emboldened and careless as to leave some traces which would lead to their detection; but on the contrary they appear to improve on each "job," and scarcely if ever are they detected, from any negligence or carelessness of their own. Occasionally one of them is detected, but it is generally from mere accident, and not from any oversight of the thief or adroitness on the part of the officer. The profession must be quite numerous in the city at present, or those who follow it are driving a thriving trade. Almost every morning the papers contain an account of a boarding house or hotel robbery. The last we have heard of was that of Mr. W. H. Righter, of St. Louis, a guest at the St. Clair Hotel, who was robbed of a gold watch and ten or twelve dollars in money. Thursday night Mr. R. retired to his room—No. 35—about eleven o'clock, and, as he supposes, bolted the door. Friday morning, upon awaking, he discovered that the bolt was drawn back and the door slightly ajar. On further examination Mr. R. found that his gold watch had been taken from a secretary, where he had left it. There was also stolen ten or twelve dollars from the pockets of the gentleman's pants and vest. Following is a description of the stolen articles; Gold watch, magic case, Rodell make, letters "W. J. T. to W. H. R." on back of case. Attached was a black ribbon guard, and the mainspring of the watch was broken. Among the papers taken was a three dollar warrant on the St. Louis Treasury. The officers have been notified of the transaction, and are in possession of all the facts connected with it, but it will be a very hard case to make anything out of, as the thief left no track behind, calculated to lead to his detection.

A "Mill."

An amusing little incident occurred at the Rush House, yesterday morning, in the way of a "mill" between "Jim" Ragan and "Long Jim," neither of whom are celebrities of the "P. R.," as the manner in which the "set to" was conducted would clearly indicate. The parties were at the Rush House, where they had been drinking a few friendly glasses together, and by some means a dispute arose between them. Ragan contended that his position was the correct one, and "Long Jim" called him a liar. Ragan's Irish was up, and he "went for" the long individual, dealing him a heavy blow on the nose, to which "Long Jim" replied with a left hander, which lodged in Ragan's "bread basket," knocking the wind out of him for a moment only, when he recovered and "went for" his adversary with so much earnestness that "Long Jim," thinking "discretion the better part of valor," started off sans hat and coat at a rate of speed that would have left Dexter in the shade. He made a direct line for the basin at the top of the hill, and when last seen was turning the upper corner of the enclosure. His hat and coat still remain at the Rush House awaiting his order.

Pastor Returned.—The many friends and admirers of Rev. James S. Dickerson, the zealous and gifted pastor of the First Baptist Church, will be pleased to learn that he has returned from his recent tour of pleasure in much improved health, and will occupy the pulpit to-morrow. Mr. Dickerson has endeared himself to his congregation, being a faithful pastor in every sense of the word, and has made a reputation here as a pulpit orator and zealous worker in the good cause which is only equalled by his bright name for golden deeds performed during the rebellion.

Before Alderman Thomas.—Frederick Wise was before Alderman Thomas, yesterday, on a charge of assault and battery, preferred against him by John Waller, who deposed that Wise struck him three times over the head and arms with a chair, in a drinking saloon on Pennsylvania Avenue. The defendant alleges that the prosecutor said he had three wives, and intended to get one more. He (Wise) told him that a man who had three wives ought to be satisfied. The violence followed and hence the suit. The defendant was held to bail.

Our Esteemed Friend. Mr. George Beaven, 112 Federal street, Allegheny, continues to supply the trade with his superior candies, and of course enjoys his usual high reputation. His candies are all made of the best sugars and syrups, and are perfectly harmless while most delicious and tempting. A full stock of foreign fruits, nuts, pickles, &c., is always kept on hand. The Attempted Rape at Iron City Park.—Jesse Price, accused of having attempted to commit a rape on the person of Mary Dougherty, on Monday, at Iron City Park, had a hearing before His Honor Mayor McCarthy, yesterday morning, when, after the prosecutrix had been examined, the counsel for the defence waived a further hearing, and the accused was held in the sum of three thousand dollars bail, in default of which he was committed for Court.

False Pretense.—Cyrus Miller, a clothier, at No. 53 Smithfield street, yesterday made information against Elmer Soles, charging him with obtaining goods under false pretense. He alleges that the accused, under false representations, procured from him a full suit of clothes of the value of $50.75. Soles was arrested and in default of bail committed, but subsequently procured the required bail and was released.

Larceny of a Hat.—S. H. Ward, a boarder at the Eagle Hotel, made information yesterday before Alderman McMasters, against W. A. Urguehart, charging him with stealing his hat. He alleges that he was sitting on a chair on the sidewalk at the Eagle Hotel, where he went to sleep, and that the accused came along, took his hat off his head, and ran away with it. A warrant was issued for his arrest.

Presbyterian Church, East Liberty.
North Presbyterian Church, Allegheny.
Methodist Church, Ohio Av., Manchester.
Shady Side Church.

This rod never gets out of order, but remains a perfect protection as long as the building endures. It has the endorsement of leading and scientific professors as being the best lightning rod ever invented.

The Most Important Thing

To insure health and long life is a good, strong chest, such as is usually possessed by every one with a sound constitution. In Pittsburgh, as in every other large city, there are thousands who delay applying a remedy in time to check the invasions of disease, until some fatal lesion occurs, which soon undermines the constitution and saps the foundations upon which depend health and long life. DR. KEYSER, of 140 Wood street, prepares a medicine called "PECTORAL SYRUP," as well as other great remedies, which have been the means of rescuing thousands from the grasp of one of the most fearful and generally considered incurable maladies, known to the world. Dr. Keyser's medicines are perfectly agreeable to the most feeble constitution, and have cured when every other known remedy has failed. His medicines are real renovators of the human constitution. They have a peculiar influence over all the secretions, and will assuredly make new and good blood, which is the source of all health; and correct movements in the animal economy. It is by this means that many of those cadaverous and scrofulous diseases are cured by him. His manner of examining the lungs is peculiar to himself, and is accomplished by means of an instrument which points out the condition of the pulmonary organs as accurately as if they could be seen working through a glass. The examination is entirely free from pain, and is the best means known to give a person a true knowledge of the condition of the lungs and other organs of the chest. Some remarkable cases of cures can be referred to in this city and neighborhood, where he has restored to health persons who have been given over to die with the worst forms of consumption.

DR. KEYSER'S CONSULTATION ROOMS 120 PENN STREET. Office hours from 9 a. m. until 4 p. m.

First Premium and Gold Medal.

The only sewing machine, that received the first Premium (which was a Gold Medal,) at the late Paris Exhibition, was that manufactured by the Wheeler & Wilson manufacturing company of New York. Rival companies claiming the first Premium know very well that it does not belong to them. A copy of the official report in regard to these awards is now in the hands of the company which proves the above statement correct.

We confidently say that there is no machine combining so many simple, useful and valuable improvements as the Wheeler & Wilson, and to show you that such is the case the agents in this city ask you to visit other agencies to obtain the greatest variety of samples they can produce, and compare with those made on the first Premium sewing machine, viz, Wheeler & Wilson. The agency is at No. 27 Fifth street.

GENERAL GRANT'S POSITION DEFINED.

So long as General GRANT was content to occupy the high position of General of the Army, and his friends were also content, it was proper for him to withhold his opinions on current political questions, until some expression became necessary in the due acquittance of his official responsibilities. The Army is that embodiment of physical force which constitutes the ultimate exhibition of the national authority. It is purely executive in its function; and some publicists have gone so far as to affirm that the less it thinks or gives utterance to thought, the better it will do its duty. These writers, however, failed to comprehend the genius of a republic. The Army that saved the Union was preeminent for thinking, and in the right direction. Positive opinions, and the determination to maintain them, were the best recruiting officers enlisted on the side of the government during the war.

But, when General GRANT was brought forward as a candidate for the Presidency; when his claims to that highest position in the government were urged by persons enjoying his intimacy; and when he tacitly encouraged these efforts in his behalf; he was justly held as having entered what in the popular sense is known as the arena of politics. No man has a right to enter there, soliciting either personally or through friends, the suffrages of the people, without declaring what political principles he espouses; and the people would be derelict of duty should they fail to challenge any man who asked political elevation while concealing the principles on which he will administer whatever civil trust might be committed to him. That GRANT is a candidate for President is too palpable to admit of dispute. Nothing short of his own positive refusal to stand can take him out of that category. Whether it is best for him to vacate the high and permanent position he fills, and in which he has won a renown that shall live throughout all coming ages, to accept a place only one grade higher, for the space of four years, is a problem which others have no right to decide.

By far the larger part of the Republicans have been immovably fixed in the resolution to accept no man as their Presidential candidate until they had full proof that he was in general accord with them on the questions involved in the work of reconstructing the Union. There have been various and contradictory reports relative to the views of General GRANT. The Democrats, the Conservatives and the Radicals claimed him and with equal positiveness. This was indicative, not necessarily of duplicity on his part, but of the greediness of leaders of parties or of faction to appropriate the lustre of a great name to their special uses. It was suggestive, moreover, of reticence on the part of the General under circumstances calculated to mislead the public or a considerable portion thereof.

General GRANT has at last spoken, and in such terms as to be satisfactory to us, and to all genuine Republicans, as far as it goes. His letter to the President, remonstrating against the removal of General SHERIDAN, is exactly to the point as raised. It is all the more valuable because, while official, it was to a certain degree private and confidential. We owe the publication of it to the confidence felt by the President that in his reply he had conclusively refuted all the positions taken therein, from which view a large majority of the American people spontaneously dissent.

It has been rumored, and we think with good reason, that General GRANT, in his testimony before the Judiciary Committee of the House of Representatives, expressed himself still more strongly on the side of Congress than in his recent note to the President. It is presumable that early in December that Committee will make a report, and the whole evidence submitted to the inspection and criticism of the public.

THE PRESIDENT'S PROGRAMME.

When the Reconstruction bill was passed the President comprehended the letter and spirit of it perfectly. In his veto message, transmitted to the House of Representatives, he developed minutely his understanding of the bill, and concurred fully in the interpretation given to it on both sides of the chambers. After the bill had passed into a law over his objections, it was seriously questioned at Washington and throughout the country whether he would carry into effect a statute with which he had found so much fault. In the columns of the National Intelligencer, his accredited organ, and in numerous conversations, he promptly avowed that his discretionary power was expended, and that nothing remained for him to do but to execute the law as he found it. This was a sound view for him to take; indeed, the only one admissible in the case. Not a few members of Congress relied upon his apparent frankness and honorable intentions, and the safeguards which their fellow-members recommended were rejected. It was with some difficulty that Congress was prevailed upon to make a contingent adjournment to July. No sooner had the session ended and the members dispersed than the President began to disclose his real intention. Rumors multiplied that Gen. SHERIDAN would be displaced, and the drift of his administration in the Fifth District subverted. An intense agitation ran through the nation, and the demand was instantaneous that the July session of Congress should be held. The President, through his organ, interposed to prevent this convocation, promising in case Congress refrained to meet in July, according to adjournment, he would order a special session whenever difficulties should arise in the due execution of the laws. The Presidential word was not deemed good enough to be taken. Congress assembled, passed a supplemental reconstruction act, sent it to the President, had it vetoed, then passed it by the Constitutional majority and adjourned. The members felt the necessity of doing more, but were not prepared to remove the President, which was the only measure adequate to the occasion, and for which there was clear warrant in the organic law.

Now the country sees that, so far as practical results are concerned, the July session might as well have been dispensed with. In defiance of a law intended to keep the district commanders in their places, and to justify them in going on with the work they had begun, SHERIDAN and SICKLES have been removed, and the fate of the others will be the same. This is a declaration of war by the Executive both upon the laws and the law-making power. Under pretense of defending the Constitution, he sets himself up as superior to the laws; as the final arbiter of their rightfulness; as the sole authority in the nation. His judgment of what the Constitution requires is not based upon contemporary exposition, or legislative and judicial precedent, but upon his interpretation of it. This is not to exalt the Constitution into the Supreme rule, but to make the view he is pleased to take of it stand in place of the Constitution itself, and the authoritative exposition thereof.

There can be no doubt as to the gravity of this issue; as to the tendency of it to produce intense excitement, to delay the restoration of civil law to the revolted States, and perhaps to provoke harsher conditions of reconstruction, as to the likelihood that it will subject our institutions to a new and severe strain; and as to the important bearings it will have on the relations of political parties during the presidential canvass now opening. The loyal people of the United States are called upon to gird up their loins for a new struggle. Choice is not left them. The issue was made up against their wills, and they must meet it or submit to have many of the just fruits of their arduous toils and vast sacrifices in the war snatched from their hands, to be recovered nevermore.

RELIGIOUS INTELLIGENCE.

The new Congregational paper, The Advance, just started at Chicago, has nearly two columns of an editorial article on "The Congregationalists and the Independent," in which we find among the several topics discussed, the religious phase of the question. It asserts that the Independent has been drifting towards a general looseness of doctrine and practice, for months and even for years—a fact plainly developed to the habitual readers of the paper. It reveals itself in the steady depreciation of doctrines under some approbrious name, such as that of dogma or creeds, in the confusing of morality and religion, in the special commendation of those supposed to favor lax opinions, in slights put upon others, and in a want of cordial, whole hearted sympathy with spiritual work, methods and men. The assumption by the editor during an extended lecturing tour of a belief in the doctrine of total depravity, and the active part of one of the sub-editors in a recent conversation of extreme "liberals" in Boston, increased the feeling of dissatisfaction. Coincident with this fact that the praises of the paper have been sounded loud by those Congregationalists whose orthodoxy was most suspected, and the earnest defense made by Unitarians of late, have served to increase the irration. Lastly, says the Advance, the matter and manner of the celebrated editorial which defined the new basis of the paper created increased alarm. Thus in brief we have the causes for the feeling of the evangelical Congregationalists in regard to the Independent. It is well to note in this connection that The Advance is gotten up in elegant style, mechanically, and the matter is excellent, and well arranged into departments.

Dr. Luther Lee, formerly of the Wesleyan body, and one of the ablest ministers ever in that Connection, is writing a series of articles on the "Union of all Methodists." He advances four reasons for the union advocated. First, uniformity in all essential doctrines. Second, a common name. Third, most usages held and observed in common. Fourth, a sameness in the spirit and tone of piety. In treating of a common name, says the Christian Advocate, Dr. Lee demurs to the Methodist Protestants, after having worn out the name "Protestant," until it had lost its charm, dropping it to monopolize the family appellation.

One of the Bishops of the M. E. Church South, Dr. McTyerie, regards Northern Methodism in East Tennessee a practical apostacy. While he regards the ministers as evangelical and true in theological doctrines, yet under the pressure of fanatical influences, and the ambition of power and numbers, and extension, they have taken a dangerous latitude in their teachings, and vehemently espoused a cause other than the Gospel. Such views are likely to be entertained by Southerners because of the efforts of the Northern Church to elevate the colored people in the South.

A "Hebrew Christian Brotherhood" has been organized in New York City by a number of converts from Judaism, for the purpose of promulgating the Gospel of Jesus of Nazareth among their brethern according to the flesh. They have sometimes twenty unconverted Israelites in attendance.

An effort is now making to endow a "Sunday School Professorship" in the Maryville College, East Tennessee. One hundred schools of the New School Presbyterian Church are asked to contribute $250 each for the purpose.

The Independent gives an account of a meeting held at the Park Street Church, Boston, at which Rev. A. B. Earle, who has just returned from the Pacific coast, after an absence of eleven months, stated during his visit he had traveled over five thousand miles, and preached five hundred and seven times. He had also entered in his book the names of about four thousand persons as converts, while he estimated the whole number of conversions in connection with his labors as high as five thousand. We have no disposition to underate Mr. Earle's labors, but think this large number must surely include those who simply pronounced in favor of the principles of Christianity, and those who were actually changed in heart by thorough conversion.

The Pittsburgh Conference of the Methodist Protestant Church meets at Uniontown, Penna., next Wednesday, September 4th. Rev. John Cowl, President, resides at Port Homer, Ohio.

In the department of the Home Journal entitled "chit-chat," we are informed that in a fashionable church, at Pittsfield, Massachusetts, strangers are seated according to their dress. Moire antique and Honiton close to the pulpit, muslins halfway up the aisle, and last year's bonnets back by the door.

A movement is on foot in which a large number of ministers are engaged, to effect a change in the present marriage law in Pennsylvania, enacted in 1705. It should be changed, and something substituted better adapted to the wants of society. The fact is, the law regulating the functions of ministers might be changed and additional guards placed on those contemplating the relation.

The friends and admirers of Rev. Rowland Connor, late of School Street Universalist church, Boston, noticed some time since, have organized under the name of the "Fraternal Association of Universalists." Their principle article of believe is: "We believe that there is one God, whose nature is love, revealed in our Lord Jesus Christ by one Holy Spirit of Grace, who will finally restore the whole family of mankind to holiness and happiness." If this be true, Zion's Herald says, it is of very little consequence what doctrines Mr. Connor may preach.

The New York Diocesian Committee of the Church Missionary Society are prosecuting the work of evangelizing the masses of that great but wicked city. The Seventeenth ward is chosen as the chief field of operations, with the Church of the Epiphany as its central point. In this ward there are 1,890 tenant houses, and in them reside 15,974 families, consisting of 63,766 persons. In addition, there is a cellar population of 2,441 persons.

The following New School Presbyterian Churches have a membership exceeding one thousand, namely, Brick Church, Rochester, N. Y., 1,079; Madison Square, New York, 1,069; Kensington, Philadelphia, 1,066; Dr. Cuyler, Brooklyn, N. Y., 1,055; New York Seventh, 1,027.

One half of the new fund of one hundred thousand dollars for the Chicago University, (Baptist) has been subscribed.

There are only three hundred thousand Lutherans in America, though they constitute in Europe the most powerful of all Protestant bodies, and in the world number thirty millions.

The good results of the erection of the Pittsburgh Episcopal Diocese, and election of Bishop Kerfoot to the Episcopate, is developing in such a marked manner, that other denominations are making a note of the fact. It appears by the late report of Bishop Kerfoot that the number of places supplied with services has increased from forty to seventy. The number of counties neglected has been reduced from thirteen to four. Twelve clergymen have been added to the list, an increase of more than one third; eight churches are under way or have been completed within the year, and several others are about to be begun.

A late number of the Episcopalian contains an elaborate critical article on "Toplady's Hymns and the Hymns of Wesley," showing their similarity of style and thought. The paper opens with a reference to the merits of Augustus Toplady and Charles Wesley, in which the writer thinks there is a remarkable similarity—a vein of thought, and sometimes of expression, running through each of a kindred character, as if they had tuned their harps together, while the Spirit of God prepared their minds for the same divine theme; both struck their chords, and one sang, "Rock of Ages," the other, "Jesus, Lover of my Soul." Which, he asks, was the better of the two? Each are so incomparable, it would be difficult to answer; indeed, we feel we could not do without either, for both breathe out so freely and truly the yearnings, longings and aspirations of a believing spirit, that they possess a value unequaled perhaps by any hymns extant.

THE DISASTERS OF A NIGHT.—Galignani says: "No crop is more uncertain than that of wines. A really good vintage occurs only at considerable intervals, for the vine grower is exposed to many disasters. Extreme cold in winter may destroy his plants—a sudden frost in May may blight the whole crop of the year. Four years ago a single hour's frost in the district round Cognac destroyed three millions sterling worth of property. The evening before the vineyards were clothed in the brightest green, at six the next morning nothing was to be seen but brown, burnt leaves, as if an eighth plague had passed over the land. On all sides groups of peasant proprietors, men, women and children, were gathered together in the early morning, weeping as men weep, with little noise but big tears, over their ruin. They had lost their year's income, and, for small fortunes, this is the all.

BLOOMERS.—The Boston ladies of Cohasse Beach, Marshfield, and parts adjacent, affect the strong minded costume. A correspondent says:

"Some of the most fashionable, aristocratic and wealthy of the Bay State ladies are now dwelling in seven by nine huts. Most of them have adopted the bloomer costume. On the beach this array is not only becoming, but is positively bewitching. The dress is generally scarlet, trimmed with white; or white trimmed with scarlet, made to fit the form very perfectly; with white gloves, jockey hat trimmed with ribbons of decided colors, with high boots—the present reigning style; all this makes these damsels very attractive. They go forth in flocks, and seen scattered over the beach, they look like fairies, who should never know want or sorrow."

TORTURE.

Who would endure the torture arising from Chills and Fever, when it can be easily cured?

Who would endure sleepless nights, burning fevers, and icy chills alternately, when a remedy can be obtained for a trifle?

Who would wander like an uncertain shadow, never knowing what moment they may be prostrated?

Who would be a burden to himself and a burden to his friends, who are worn out in administering to his wants?

Who would live this life of agony when the great alterative and tonic,

HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS, can be obtained at the nearest village. This long established and justly renowned medicine has never been known to fail in a single case, and none but the foolish and weak would hesitate to procure it at once, and save themselves from intense, life-long torture. Prepared after a long experience and deep study, it has received the encomiums of the most eminent physicians, as well as all classes from every other part of the country. To those who doubt its many virtues, all we say is TRY IT and judge for ourselves.

Every day letters pour in upon us testifying to its great efficacy in curing [illegible] and also Dyspepsia, Languor, Nausea, and similar ills.

CURE OF FISTULA.

DR. KEYSER: I write to thank you for your kindness and scientific management of my disease, for which I called to consult you some time in January last. You will remember that I had a complication of diseases which finally ended in a terrible fistula, which had been advised to "let alone" on account of a harassing cough, which it was feared might fasten on my lungs. I knew that the popular mode of treating diseases like mine was by a cutting operation, which, if successful at all, would naturally throw the disease upon the lungs or some other vital organ, on account of the suddenness of the cure and the immediate check to a discharge which I was constrained to believe was a salutary provision of Nature to get rid of some morbid condition in the system. I feel perfectly satisfied that your method of treatment, purifying to the system, and local applications to the fistulous part, must cure, if anything could, without cutting, which I find it did, and I am happy to report myself well in every particular, with sounder and better health than I have had for years. I would also add that the applications you made were almost painless, and have left me a new man, with all the energies and vigor of restored health.

Yours, gratefully, C—.

Dr. Keyser's consultation rooms are No. 120 Penn street, from 9 A. M. until 4 P. M.

CAUTION TO THE PUBLIC!

A FEW AVARICIOUS AND UNPRINCIPLED FLOUR DEALERS in and around Pittsburgh, are now purchasing second-hand sacks, with our brand upon them, filling them with an inferior quality, and selling it as our Flour. Finding it difficult to procure the quantity of second-hand sacks, they are trying to get the sack maker here to make and print a lot for them.

To prevent this fraud, we are now pasting our sacks, and sealing them with a printed label, with name of firm and date of manufacture.

As we keep a register of the Flour made each day, and the kind of wheat ground, we are at all times enabled to know the quality of Flour made.

LOOK OUT FOR SHORT WEIGHTS!

Some of the dealers who are filling the sacks, are putting up short weights, in some cases equal to twenty pounds per barrel, making fully one dollar per barrel less to the consumer.

A REWARD OF $50.00

Will be paid for information that will lead to the detection and conviction of any person engaged in this fraudulent business.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

THE Central Pacific RAILROAD,

THE WESTERN HALF OF THE

Great National Trunk Line Across the Continent,

Being constructed with the AID AND SUPERVISION OF THE UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT, is destined to be one of the MOST IMPORTANT AND VALUABLE RAILROADS IN THE WORLD, as it is the sole link of communication between the Pacific Coast and the Great Interior Basin, and the Principal Portion of the Main Stem Line Between the two Oceans.

The present western terminus is at Sacramento, on the navigable waters of the Pacific, but it will ultimately extend from San Francisco across the richest and most populous parts of California, Nevada and Utah, contiguous to all the great Mining Regions of the Far West. The Company are authorized to continue their line eastward until it shall meet and connect with the roads now building east of the Rocky Mountain ranges.

Assuming that they will build and control half the entire distance between San Francisco and the Missouri River, as now seems probable, the United States will have invested in the completion of 865 miles $28,592,000, or at the average rate of $35,000 per mile, not including an absolute grant of 10,000,000 acres of the Public Lands. By becoming a joint investor in the magnificent enterprise, and by waving its first lien in favor of the First Mortgage Bondholders, THE GENERAL GOVERNMENT, IN EFFECT, INVITES THE CO-OPERATION OF PRIVATE CAPITALISTS, and has carefully guarded their interests against all ordinary contingencies.

The Central Pacific Railroad enjoys all the privileges, grants, and subsidies conferred by the Acts of Congress upon the other parts of the through line, and has, in addition several special, exclusive advantages applicable only to the Western Half.

I. The Company has received from the State and chief cities of California, assistance in money, credit, and valuable property, worth over $3,000,000 in gold, in addition to the full benefit of the Government subsidy.

II. The hardest and costliest part of its construction has been successfully overcome within the first 150 miles. In a few weeks the track will be completed entirely across the Sierra Nevadas, after which progress to Salt Lake will be easy and rapid.

III. The local business alone of this road establishes its complete financial success, independently of the vast through traffic which must pass over it. The gross earnings for the months of June and July, upon the 94 miles then open for business, were upward of $287,000 in gold; of which four-fifths were net earnings.

IV. It can have no competition, but will carry, beside its own lucrative local traffic, the whole volume of through business which is shared among its Eastern connections and their branches.

V. The road lies wholly in territory yielding the precious metals, and its revenues are collected in coin. Its rates for transportation are very advantageous, being more than three times those of roads lying east of it; and the ratio of operating expenses is less than 25 per cent. of the gross earnings.

VI. In consequence of the aid it receives from the General Government, from the State of California, and from municipal corporations, the annual interest obligations which the Company are called upon to assume are very light. The net earnings upon an average of about 75 miles, in 1866, were nearly three times the amount of annual interest liabilities to be assumed in building it, and were $235,000 more than the annual interest on the entire amount of First Mortgage Bonds which the Company can issue upon the first 150 miles.

The Company offer for sale, through us, their

First Mortgage Thirty Year, Six per cent. Coupon Bonds,

Principal and Interest payable in Gold Coin, in New York city. They are in sums of $1,000 each, with semi-annual gold coupons attached, and are selling for the present at 95 per cent. and accrued interest from July 1st added, in currency, at which rate they yield yearly

Nine per cent. upon the Investment.

These Bonds, authorized by Act of Congress, are issued only as the work progresses, and to the same amount only as the bonds granted by the Government; and represent, in all cases, the first lien upon a completed, equipped, and productive railroad, in which have been invested Government subsidies, stock subscriptions, donations, surplus earnings, etc., and which is worth more than three times the amount of First Mortgage Bonds which can be issued upon it.

The agreement of this Company to pay principal and interest of their Bonds in coin, being made under the Specific Contract Law of California, authorizing and enforcing contracts to pay gold, is legally binding, unlike similar agreements made by companies in States where no such legislative sanction exists.

In these important particulars the Securities of the Central Pacific Company offer an unusual degree of stability and profit combined.

THE FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS OF THIS COMPANY are destined to occupy a prominent place among FIRST-CLASS SECURITIES in the money markets of this country and Europe, and will, without doubt, be eagerly sought for, and anxiously dealt in hereafter, at rates materially in advance of the price at which they are now offered.

Having carefully investigated the resources, progress and prospects of the road, and the management of the Company's affairs, we cordially recommend these bonds to Trustees, Executors, Institutions, and others, as an eminently sound, reliable and remunerative form of permanent investment.

HUGH McKELVEY, P. M.

Attempted Highway Robbery.—A few days ago, says the Venango Citizen, an attempt was made to rob Mr. Johnson, of the firm of Brevillier & Johnson, as he was passing from Miller Farm to Pithole. Mr. Johnson was on horseback and alone, and when he approached within about a mile of Pithole, early in the evening, the clouds suddenly overspread the heavens, making it quite dark; and as he was passing through a thick portion of the woods, a man sprang from the side of the road to seize the bridle. The horse being frightened, darted to one side, and receiving at the same instant a blow from his rider, he plunged forward, cleared the villain and soon left him far in the rear to curse his ill luck.

Mr. Johnson was unarmed and had some $500 in money on his person, besides his watch and other valuables. He is to be congratulated on his escape, and he will probably take warning by this bit of experience, and on future occasions in that section will be prepared for such contingencies.

Burglars.—The Genius of Uniontown says: Our town and vicinity seem to be infested with an organized gang of burglars who almost nightly ply their vocation. During last week some two or three dwelling houses were entered and robbed of quantities of meat, butter, &c., and chicken pens have suffered not little from their depredations. Last week these scoundrels took forcible possession of the palace of the old negro woman and fortune teller, Aunt Kitty Mifflin, and robbed Aunty of a year's profit, arising from close attention to her favorite and useful profession.

It was no doubt these same scoundrels, who made a raid on Mr. Snyder's house at Fayette Springs, a few evenings since, but were "successfully repulsed" by a few shots from Mr. Snyder's mountain howitzer. These midnight prowlers and thieves are pretty well-known in this vicinity, and we predict that ere long the people will have the pleasure of paying their boarding at the State institution, in Allegheny city.

Appointment to West Point.—The Genius of Liberty, of Fayette county, says: A vacancy from this district occurred in the Military Academy at West Point a short time ago. A large number of young men applied for the position. Mr Covode, to whom belongs the right to recommend, appointed a committee, consisting of Dr. F. C. Robinson and Col. J. W. Deford of this place, to examine all the applicants, touching their physical and mental fitness. It was agreed that the boy who should receive the recommendation of the committee, after passing its examination, should receive the appointment. All the applicants appeared before this committee and were examined. The prize was won by Mr. Frederick Robinson of this place, son of Dr. Robinson, one of the examining committee. Young Robinson left on Friday last for West Point, accompanied by his father.

Bitten by a Snake.—On Tuesday evening, about 9 o'clock, a young lady stopping at the house of Mr. Stephen Snyder, on the Mountain, was bitten by a large copperhead snake. The snake was lying on the stairs, and the lady, unconscious of its presence, tread on the monster and was bitten on the foot. Medical aid was summoned immediately, but doubts are entertained of her recovery.

Over an Embankment.—Peter Bigler, a German, and his daughter, residing at Pine Creek, were severely injured on Thursday night, in Duquesne borough, by the upsetting of a wagon, in which they were riding, over an embankment. They were on their way to market.

Application for Pardon.—The friends of William Johnson, the livery stable man in Altoona, who was convicted in the United States District Court at Pittsburgh, for selling counterfeit United States Currency, are applying to President Johnson for a pardon.

Fire in Birmingham.—Friday morning about two o'clock the rolling mill of McKnight & Co., in Birmingham, took fire and was damaged to a considerable extent before the flames were extinguished.

First Baptist Church.—The pastor (Rev. J. S. Dickerson) having returned home, will preach as usual. Morning, 10½; evening, 7¾ o'clock.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
FRIDAY, August 30, 1867.

The New York stock quotations to-day, as received by Mr. P. R. Mertz, were as follows: Gold, 141¼; Eighty-one bonds, 111⅜; Five Twenties, 1862, 114½; Five Twenties, 1864 109½; Five Twenties, 1865, 110¾; 5-20 Consols, 108¼; Seven Thirties, 107⅜; Ten Forties, 102⅝. Stocks—Erie Railroad, 70; Cleveland & Pittsburgh, 94; Chicago and Rock Island, 103¼; Chicago and Northwestern, 46⅝; Chicago and Northwestern preferred, 70¼; Fort Wayne Railroad, 105⅝; Michigan Southern Railroad, 83; New York Central, 105; Reading, 104¼; Western Union Telegraph Co., 42⅜. Mining shares—Corydon, 1,25; Gregory, 6,20; Quartz Hill, 1,65; Smith & Paramalee, 6,30.

Gold opened strong at 142¼, but declined to 141⅜. The market is well supplied with cash gold, and 3 per cent. premium is paid for carrying it. The Government has sold daily not only its receipts, but about half a million daily from the surplus. The sudden rise of 5-20s of 1862 from 113¼ to 114⅜ in the face of a decline of ¾ per cent. in London and Frankfort, is a strange occurrence, and can not be accounted for otherwise than heavy purchases by speculators in gold: the advance here would cause heavy shipments from England, make Exchange scarce and higher, and cause an unusual demand for cash gold. The balance of the list of Government securities is not so firm this afternoon, and shows a downward.

The share market is strong but unsettled on the speculative shares; the leading Roads are all quoted higher this afternoon, but transactions are very small. Nothing but the inactivity of business and the large accumulation of bank balances at the money centres keeps up the price of stocks; the increased tariff of all the through routes to the West and Southwest would not justify an advance in the value of stocks, since the earnings during all last season were far behind those of the last season, whilst the working expenses remained nearly unaltered.

Mining shares are dull and unchanged in prices, with scarcely any transactions. Money is less stringent for legitimate business. Local stocks not in demand at current quotations—sellers preponderate.

—The Chicago Tribune, of Friday, says: The recent rapid decline in wheat must prove severe on country buyers, but with the daily extension of the region in which harvesting is finished, there is no probability of its causing any diminution of receipts. On the contrary, when the abundance of the present crop, together with the increase of the area of cultivation west of us since the last good wheat crop in the region which finds its market in this city, is taken into consideration, there can be no doubt but our receipts must reach about twice their present volume. The same remarks apply to Milwaukee, which is also the market for a large and rapidly extending wheat growing district.

The same paper says: Although the redemption of compound interest notes which were in the hands of the public outside of the National Banks, has relieved the money market in New York temporarily, so as to cause a rise in Seven Thirty bonds of one half per cent. from the lowest point touched last week, yet it would be folly to base any calculations on an easy money market this fall. As we showed some days ago, the currency contraction for 1867 will be over eighty millions of dollars. We have got so used to large statements, that, perhaps, we don't fully realize the magnitude of such a contraction. It must, however, prove, in view of our larger crops both North and South, a more rapid contraction than is either comfortable or prudent, and it will be well for everyone to bear that fact in mind in their anticipated arrangements for the business of the next four months.

—The New York Times, of Friday, says: The Cleveland and Pittsburgh directors met in this city at the Bank of New York, and on the statement of the business of the Company and the cash means on hand on the 31st of July, (ult.,) unanimously declared a cash dividend of five per cent., payable in New York on the 24th of September. We understand that the prospects of the road justify the calculation that the half-yearly dividends hereafter, in February and August, will be the same as now declared. The finances of the Company are entirely free of floating debt, and of prospective obligations. The dividends will be maintained in cash. The recent accession of the part of the Cleveland and Toledo (Vanderbilt) interest to the direction of the Pittsburgh Company is likely to work good to both interests, especially with reference to their station property in the city of Cleveland.

—The New York Tribune, in noticing the foreign trade says: These figures will be of service in estimating the course of the money market during the ensuing Autumn. It must, however, be borne in mind that financial affairs have materially changed in the interval of comparison. Last season there was no grain crop of consequence to move; now there is in bushels the largest crop ever harvested. Then the cotton crop promised to be small; now it looks as though 2,750,000@3,000,000 bales may be produced. Then the Treasury owned $45,000,000 of temporary loans, a resource to the banks equal to legal tender; now that element has disappeared, together with $47,000,000 of compounds, available as reserve. Since then $400,000,000 of currency debt has been funded, and $30,000,000 of plain legal tenders killed.

It will be noticed that with all this destruction of currency and debt available as bank reserve, the banks of this city stand waiting to meet the demand for money to move the crops with $28,000,000 less of reserve than on September 1, 1866, and have $1,000,000 less of reserve to commence with, than was held by them after call loans advanced from September, 1866, to December 1, 1866, from 3@4 to 6@7 per cent., and navigation had closed, with the bulk of cereals marketed. But this is not all. The Treasury is steadily paying off compounds and reducing the bank reserves, and funding the currency into long bonds, thus giving fixed and long employment to what is now a floating investment, having currency privileges at maturity. Superadded to these disturbing causes are political complications, which at any moment may take a form which will alarm the public creditors, and force upon the market sufficient bonds to send them to par, and cause further large exports of gold. It cannot escape the most casual observer that the time is approaching when there will be a scramble for a steadily decreasing amount of currency and bank credits, resulting in an active demand, at full legal rates for money. What effect this change in rates and competition will have upon prices of commodities needs little thought.

PITTSBURGH METAL AND BLOOM MARKET—WEEKLY REVIEW.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
FRIDAY, August 30, 1867.

The transactions in metal were again light, in the aggregate, this week, and while the market was dull, prices have undergone no quotable change. The stock of desirable grades of crude irons is unusually light, while the commoner descriptions, as has been the case all season, are in good supply and very dull. The majority of the mills, it is thought, will be in full blast by the middle of next week.

New York Dry Goods Market.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW YORK, August 30.—The dry goods market is much more animated for all descriptions of goods, both cotton, wool, flax and silks, and the prices generally firmer. There is a lively demand for all staple fabrics and tending rather upward than downward, but the changes are of no essential consequence. No Sprague Mills will be shipped for a month, as the engine has gone to smash; this will cause a scarcity of calicoes, and a firm market for the same.

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
FRIDAY, August 30, 1867.

The general markets are quiet and devoid of any excitement, though, nevertheless, there appears to be a fair volume of business, in the aggregate, but the transactions, generally, are of an unimportant character, and we have but few round lot operations to record. As the impression still prevails that prices have not yet touched bottom both dealers and consumers are buying very sparingly, and this, more than anything else, retards operations, and restricts business.

GRAIN—There is rather more inquiry for Wheat, but prices are without quotable change; sales of 3 cars prime Penna Red at $2,25—small lots cannot be quoted above $2,12@2,15. Oats continue to come in freely, and the tendency is downward—sale of 1 car at 51c; 50 bgs at 54c—small sales at 56@60c. Corn is firm but unchanged; sale of 1 car Shelled at $1,05. Rye is a shade firmer; sale of 1 car at $1,25. Barley is quiet, and, as yet, the arrivals have been light; we continue to quote at 90c for Spring, and $1@1,10 for Fall.

FLOUR—Is quiet and a little dull but unchanged. We continue to quote at $10@10,50 for Spring; $10,75@11,25 for Winter Wheat, and $13@14 for fancy brands. One firm here bought 400 bbls good Spring Wheat in Chicago, on Wednesday, at $8,25. Rye Flour is selling in store at $7,75@8. The stock of old Flour in this market is very light.

PROVISIONS—Bacon is quiet firm, with regular jobbing sales at former quotations—12¼@12⅝c for Shoulders; 14¼@15½c for Ribbed and Clear Sides, and 21@21½c for Sugar Cured Hams. Lard is dull but firm at 13¼@13½c, in tierces and barrels, and 13¾@14c, in kgs. Mess Pork is still quoted at $24@24,50.

GREEN APPLES—Continue very dull, with a supply largely in excess of the demand; sales at $2,00@3,50 per barrel, according to quality.

POTATOES—Sweet Potatoes is selling at from $6 to $6,50 per bbl.

BUTTER—Is in better supply, but prime fresh pail and firkin Butter still commands 24c @25c. There seems to be no demand whatever for common packed.

EGGS—The market seems to be somewhat firmer, though, the demand is by no means active; fresh packed may be quoted at 14@15c.

CHEESE—Is steady but quiet; we can report regular jobbing sales at 12½c@15c, according to quality.

HAY—Is dull but without quotable change, ranging from $13@18 per ton, for common to prime Timothy.

SEEDS—Sales of Timothy at $2,50. Flaxseed is wanted, but prices are irregular. No movement whatever in Clover.

PITTSBURGH PETROLEUM MARKET

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
FRIDAY, August 30, 1866.

CRUDE—The market opened firm this morning, and towards evening became considerably excited, under the influence of the foreign news. Sales of 330 bbls, on spot, at 10—bbls to be returned; 2500 bbls for all 1867, seller's option, at 10c; 2000—later in the day—for all 1867, seller's option, at 11c. Spot oil was held firmly at 11c in the evening, and we should not be surprised to hear of sales to-day at that figure—indeed, it was rumored that there were buyers late this evening at 11c. This sudden and unexpected turn in the market has strengthened up the "bulls" considerably, and the "bears" have again been obliged to take a "back seat." The stock of spot oil is pretty well reduced, and those who have had the courage as well as patience to "hold on" are now in a fair way to be rewarded. We have no late advices from Oil City, but an advance there also is inevitable.

REFINED—The market for bonded oil was again very firm to-day, and compared with yesterday, prices have still further advanced, as will be seen by the following sales: 500 bbls, on spot, at 29c; 500 bbls for September, at 30c; 500 for October, at 31c—all standard white, and, of course, to be delivered in Philadelphia; also, 500 bbls prime light straw to white, at 27c. The cause for the advance in refined is the same as in the case of crude, improved character of the foreign news—Antwerp having advanced to 46½ francs. The most remarkable feature in the market to-day, however, was the sale of five hundred barrels of free oil, prime light straw to white, at 42½c, to be delivered immediately. This is the first five hundred barrel lot of free oil we have had reported this year.

Oats dull, 75@78 for new Ohio. Corn firmer with a fair speculative demand; $1,12½@1,15 for good to prime new mixed Western; and $1,08@1,11½. Pork closed firmer; sales of 1,500 bbls mess at $23,20@23,31¼ cash and regular; closing at $23,25 cash. Beef quiet and steady. Cut meats quiet and unchanged. Bacon firm with a limited demand. Lard very firm at 13¼@13¾ for fair to prime steam, and 12¾@13c for kettle rendered.

Cincinnati Market.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

CINCINNATI, August 30.—Flour and Wheat unchanged and quiet; holders generally ask $2,15 for No. 1 red wheat, and $2,25 for the same grade of white, but sales were made with difficulty at these rates. Corn scarce, with but little offering, and prices are again higher; sales of ear and shelled at $1 02@1,03, and at the close neither could have been bought below $1,05. Oats dull and prices lower; No 1, 55@56c. Rye dull at $1,23@1,25. Barley unchanged and quiet. Cotton dull and prices nominal; middling 24@24½c. Whisky unsettled; $2,32 offered, but holders ask $2,33@2,35 in bond. Mess Pork dull at $23,30@23,50. Lard 12¾c. Bulk Meats firmer; shoulders 11¼c, and sides at 13½c. There is a good demand for Bacon Shoulders, with sales of 100 hhds at 12½c—an advance of ¼c; sides held at 15¾@16¼c for clear rib, and clear hams quiet at 20@22c for sugar cured; common low; sales at 17½@18c. Butter in better supply, but prices are unchanged; fresh sells at 25@30c. Eggs 13@15c. Linseed Oil advanced to $1,20, and the supply is light. Groceries unchanged and firm. Gold 140½@141. RIVER NEWS.

The river continues to recede steadily at this point, with but twenty-two inches in channel. The weather yesterday was clear and cool, and seemingly settled. Business is again virtually suspended at the landing, and navigation for the time being, to use a common phrase, is again "played out."

Mr. John Greenough, a well-known steamboatman and a Pittsburgher, has taken charge of the office of the St. Louis and New Orleans packet Lady Gay. Until recently, Mr. Greenough has been in the banking business at Vicksburg.

OHIO RIVER IMPROVEMENT.—The Portsmouth Gazette, speaks of the matter, as follows: Wing dams will be erected, which will confine the waters to a narrow channel and raise the river in the channel some three feet. The map, which is made as fast as the survey proceeds, will show the width of the river at low water mark, and indicate all the shoals, sandbars and ripples, as well as the depth of the water in the channel. The party is now engaged in surveying the river along the city, and find the channel, at its greatest depth, twenty-three feet.

The St. Louis Democrat has the following: "No excitement whatever attended the departure on Saturday of the rival Quincy packets, Jasper and Johnston. On the up trip of the Rob Roy she passed the Jasper, fair and square under way. It is well known though that the Rob is one of the fastest as well as finest packets afloat."

The Madison Courier, of Monday, says: The Government survey party, under charge of Captain J. E. Day, arrived here on Friday evening. They have completed the survey of the river from Cincinnati to this place. They report that Madoc and Rising Sun bars—the worst points above Madison—can easily be improved; and that from the Suspension bridge at Cincinnati to Main street, Madison, the distance is 86 miles.

We extract the following items from the Louisville Democrat, of Wendesday:

ON A LONG JOURNEY.—The Silver Lake No. 4 left here about five months ago, en route for the Rocky Mountains, from Pittsburgh. She passed up on her return yesterday. She was fired into once by "Lo! the poor Indians," and one man was shot, who was on board yesterday doing well.

A VETERAN.—We had the pleasure of meeting Capt. Dave Hiner in town yesterday, looking hale and hearty for a man who had been on the river for forty-six years. He is appointed by the Government to superintend to the work of improving navigation in the White and Arkansas rivers. He left yesterday for Memphis, and will begin the work of "cleaning out" those streams at once.

THE "SO-CALLED" COURIER.—This always reliable, and "best paper ever published" (!) &c., &c., has taken occasion once or twice to blow about something in its river column that it knows nothing about. For instance, it commences to throw "flings" at the towboat pilots association about big wages &c., and seems to know more about the pilots and their business than they know themselves. The Courier has all it can do this fall to attend to "low pressure boats," "fast runs" of boats long forgotten, and one or two other dead stock items. We will enlighten the Courier man by letting him know that a pair of floating boats loaded with coal has not been sent down the river since the war, besides, there is a difference between a coalboat and a flatboat. Again, the Courier man ought to be better posted before he "pi'es in" to talk about something he knows nothing about. The following note will no doubt enlighten him a little:

Will S. Hays: I read a statement yesterday in the river column of the Louisville-Bowling-green-"So-called" Courier, that towboat pilots received from $6000 to $10,000 last year for wages; furthermore, that they had set the wages at $500 per trip for running one pair of boats. Now, allow me to say, that the gassy-guessing individual who wrote the item would rather tell a lie on six months credit than tell the truth for cash. There is not a pilot in Louisville who made $4300 last year, and some did not make $1,800, and when we make a trip we tow from seven to twenty barges, or from 150,000 to 300,000 bushels of coal, instead of a pair of boats, as the re-lia-able Courier reporter guessed at. I am yours,

A TOWBOAT PILOT.

The Cincinnati Enquirer says: A case of some interest to steamboatmen was heard yesterday before Esquire Carter. Pilot Joseph Williams sued the steamer Messenger for $250, claiming that he entered into a contract with the Captain to pilot the boat to New Orleans and back for that sum and the Captain of the Messenger afterwards disregarded that contract and entered into one with another pilot for a less sum. The Captain denied that he made any such contract with Williams. Squire Carter reserved his decision until this morning.

The Vicksburg Times says: We want to see the race between the Ruth and Richmond repeated at early day. Hold your horses until the Ruth is repaired, and then you will have the pleasure and satisfaction of seeing the Ruth beat any boat that runs to New Orleans perhaps.

MUTINY ON THE MISSISSIPPI.—It is not often that a case of mutiny occurs on the Western waters, but on the last trip of the steamer Welcome, from Vicksburg to St. Louis, the pilot, whose name is Sanford, as we are informed, not only refused to obey the orders of the Captain, with regard to some movement of the boat, but made a murderous assault upon his person, which, from all we can learn, would have resulted fatally, had not some of the crew interfered. The Captain was beaten in a most shameful manner, and confined to his room by injuries all the way up. As the matter is likely to be brought before the United States District Court, we refrain from any comments at present. The charge of mutiny is a serious one, and if clearly proven is a State prison offense.—St. Louis Dispatch.

The same paper also says: A conflict appears eminent between the steamboat and barge system of transportation. The owners of steamboats are contending that the barge system is no longer entitled to the privilege of carrying freight at less rates than steamboats, from the fact they make as good time, and are every way on an equality. The subject has been under discussion by the Captains' Association of this city for some days, and promises to be both exciting and interesting before settled.

The Dubuque Herald says: All heavy draught packets will soon be withdrawn unless there is a rise. Trouble has also been experienced on the lower rapids. The Minnesota, due from below Sunday night, had not arrived last evening. She left Davenport yesterday morning with a heavy freight. The Davenport was also behind time from above, and had not hove in sight at six o'clock last night.

BELTING AND PACKING OFFICE OF W. & A. J. PACKARD,
Youngstown, Ohio, June 17th, 1867.

Messrs. Burke & Barnes, Pittsburgh, Pa.

GENTLEMEN—We ship you, to-day, by railroad, a safe of your make, for a few repairs. The safe went through the disastrous fire that occurred here on the 6th of March last, burning our store and warehouse, and we are glad to inform you that the papers taken out of the safe after the fire were not harmed in the least. We did not suppose any safe, especially so small a size, could possibly stand such a fire, and when we discovered the papers all safe and sound, we were agreeably disappointed. We will give you an order for a large size safe when we get into our new store. Truly yours,

W. & A. J. PACKARD.
